

zda

Zentrum für
Demokratie
AarauUniversität
Zürich^{UZH}

ETH zürich

Tuesday, 16 November 2021, 18:30–20:30

Covid Certificate required/apéro cancelled

University of Zurich (external building)
Rämistrasse 74, Room RAI-H-041Free entry. No registration required.
Information/updates here.

Democracy, Populism, and the Just City

Keynote by
Prof. Dr. Susan Fainstein (Harvard University)

Followed by a panel discussion

Centre for Democracy Studies Aarau, University of Zurich, Dr. Oliver Dlabac
Department of Political Science, University of Zurich, Prof. Dr. Daniel Kübler
Institute for Spatial and Landscape Development, ETH, Prof. Dr. David Kaufmann

Cordial invitation

What are the policies and political processes supporting an equitable development of a city? How can we explain public efforts for more equitable access to affordable and decent housing and efforts for creating more socially and ethnically mixed urban neighbourhoods in particular moments in time? What is the role of democratic processes therein? Prof. Fainstein will draw from her extensive research and in particular from her much noted book “The Just City”. The panel discussion will then address best practices and insights from a comparative case study on the cities of Zurich, Birmingham and Lyon, recently finalized by an interdisciplinary research team from the Universities of Zurich and Birmingham.

Fotos: © Roman Zwicky, zyrokz.tumblr.com

